Is the vision of the draft Plan one in which you can share?:

Yes

In the light of your response to the above question, are the proposed sectoral projects essential to the meeting of the action area aims for 2012? If not, why not?:

Are the outcomes for the twenty themes and the priorities for tackling them correctly outlined and prioritised? If not, why not?:

In the light of your response to the above question, what projects do you view as being essential to implementing these priorities (some examples are offered in Appendix I)?:

And are the right organisations identified as being the primary players in implementing these priorities?:

If you are responding on behalf of an organisation, how do you see yourselves contributing to the success of the National Plan?:

Do you have any other comments on the draft National Plan which you would like to submit?:

Gaelic-learners, such as myself, are often disappointed by the lack of materials available at public libraries in Scotland. It would be great if there could be books, CDs, DVDs films etc readily available. This summer I scoured Fort William for Gaelic language books and was very disappointed. It would be easier to learn French or Italian! And the public library there had perhaps two or three books only - and no other facilities. (Though the library did offer English language lessons)

I agree for my views to be made public: ON
